BACKPANEL CONNECTORS

FCI is known as the world leader in backpanel connectors.

The Metral® 2 mm system is used by major equipment manufacturers and is deployed in data and communications equipment across the globe.

Other connector lines, such as DIN and Millipacs® hard-metric connectors, broaden our offering and are used not only in communication but increasingly in industrial applications.

Furthermore, in this guide we present otr Metral and AirMax VS® high-speed backpanel products, ready to scale high-speed electrical performance to 10 GB/s and beyond.
